

English Speaking Confidence

A 1:1 programme for professionals who already speak English – and want to communicate with greater confidence, clarity and ease.

You probably don't need another English course. You need the English you already have to be available when it matters – in meetings, presentations, calls and conversations.

Your programme

Introductory call	30 minutes. We clarify your goals, your starting point and the situations in which you want to feel more confident.
Eleven individual sessions	60 minutes each, scheduled flexibly at your pace. Conversation is at the centre – we work with your real professional topics, situations and communication challenges.
Personalised wordings	After every session you receive at least 30 individual words, phrases and formulations, drawn from our conversation and tailored to you – a minimum of 330 over the programme.
Email and Quizlet follow-up	Your individual language is documented after each session and made available for review and active practice.
Two books included	You receive two of my books as supporting material. Selected content from Cambridge University Press may be used where appropriate.
Certificate	At the end of the programme you receive a certificate documenting your participation and your assessed English level.
Wrap-up and action plan	30 minutes. We review your progress and define practical next steps so that you keep building confidence after the programme.

The result

By the end of the programme you will have spent around twelve hours actively speaking English about the topics that matter in your professional life. The aim is not to work through a generic syllabus, but to make your English more spontaneous, more precise and readily available when you need it.

Speak like yourself. Lead with confidence. In English.

How it works

START	Introductory call 30 minutes · goals, professional context, challenges and starting point
SESSIONS 1 – 11	Individual coaching 11 × 60 minutes · flexibly scheduled, at your pace · conversation-led, using your real professional topics
AFTER EACH SESSION	Personal follow-up At least 30 individual wordings · email summary and Quizlet set
FINISH	Wrap-up and outlook 30 minutes · progress review, certificate and personal action plan

Is this programme for you?

English Speaking Confidence is designed for everyone with an existing foundation in English who wants to become more spontaneous, precise and confident in professional communication. It is particularly useful when international meetings, presentations, leadership conversations or a new role make English increasingly important.

If you are at the beginning of your career and looking for support with your English, please feel free to contact me. We can find an individual solution that fits your situation and goals.

For companies and teams

I also work with companies and teams, offering tailored Business English and communication training. Please contact me to discuss your requirements and an individual programme.

Ready to discuss your English?

Tell me what is currently challenging you – an important meeting, a presentation, a new international role, or simply the feeling that your English does not yet reflect who you are professionally.

Book your 30-minute introductory call – in English or German.
